

Cambridge English

January 2011

Cambridge English Competition 2010/2011

Win two weeks in Cambridge!

Cambridge ESOL and Bell are inviting English language teachers from all over the world to submit inspiring stories for the chance to win a place on a professional development course at Bell Teacher Campus in Cambridge, taking place in August 2011.

Entrants for the 2010/11 Cambridge English competition have to submit up to 150 words on how they have overcome a challenge when teaching English to speakers of other languages.

The six winning teachers will be presented with an all-expenses paid trip to Cambridge to take part in a two-week residential course at Bell Teacher Campus.

The deadline for the competition is GMT Midnight 1 March 2011.

To find out more, including full terms and conditions, please visit:

www.schools.CambridgeESOL.org

2011 Examination dates

More dates, more flexibility, more choice

We are substantially increasing the number of examination dates in 2011 - both for paper-based and computer-based exams. We want you to have the flexibility to select from the available dates and choose those which fit your schedules and best meet your candidates' needs.

The complete calendar for 2011 is now available on our website

<http://www.cambridgeesol.org/exams/timetables>

Teacher Support Programme 2011

Cambridge ESOL is committed to supporting the work of English Language Teachers. If you are interested in preparing yourself or your students for the Cambridge exams, you can find valuable information, material and support at our Cambridge ESOL teacher support seminars. They are led by experienced and knowledgeable trainers, who have all been appointed by Cambridge ESOL.

The programme including dates and venues is available on our website

www.CambridgeESOL.org/Argentina

Cambridge B1 Course Online

Everything you need for 100 hours of blended learning

The Cambridge B1 Course Online comes with everything you need for 100 hours of blended learning at B1 level. The course is written by expert authors and structured around 24 modules. It includes hundreds of online media-rich activities as well as classroom resources, reference materials and timed practice tests.

Through 100 hours of blended learning, the course gives learners confidence in B1 level English - not only for exams - but for real-life communication in a wide variety of environments.

The course is suitable for all learners over the age of 16, including adults at education institutions such as universities, colleges, private schools and adult learning centres.

For more information please visit
www.CambridgeB1.org

